

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

WILEY

Editor's reply to the Letter to the Editor of Dr. Suzuki

See articles in Japan Journal of Nursing Science

DOI: 10.1111/jjns.12309

Letter to the Editor: Authors' response to letter to the Editor: Safety concerns with human papilloma virus immunization in Japan: Analysis and evaluation of Nagoya City's surveillance data for adverse events

Sadao Suzuki

DOI: 10.1111/jjns.12310

Authors' response to letter to the editor, letter to the editor: Authors' response to letter to the editor: Safety concerns with human papilloma virus immunization in Japan: Analysis and evaluation of Nagoya City's surveillance data for adverse events

Yukari Yaju and Hiroe Tsubaki

In the spirit of public discussion we are publishing a second Letter to the Editor from Dr. Suzuki and a response to that second letter from the original authors, Drs. Yaju and Tsubaki.

Dr. Suzuki is incorrect in suggesting that some form of collusion has occurred between JJNS and authors Yaju and Tsubaki. JJNS merely contacted authors Yaju and Tsubaki to provide them the opportunity to respond to Dr. Suzuki's original Letter to the Editor, enabling both sides to publish at the same time in the interests of balance and timeliness, with references provided for reader convenience.

Dr. Suzuki has had the opportunity to refute the conclusions of the Yaju and Tsubaki paper and present his argument. Authors Yaju and Tsubaki also clarified their stance on their methodology.

JJNS plans no further action based upon the contents or recommendations of either of these letters, and this discussion is now concluded.

William L. Holzemer,
Editor-in-Chief, Japan Journal of Nursing Science

Rutgers School of Nursing, New Brunswick, Blackwood, New Jersey